—We would call the attention of our readers to the eard of Br. W. E. Rogers, The Doctor is too well known as an expension and surgeon to need to be described by the compact of the AMUSEMENTS. The general subject of conversation yesterday evening was the contemptible in the property of the embodiment of the Gayose Gas Company, who attempted to force a candidate upon the people that they reputiated by nearly fourteen hundred mafority. Demogran may as well move away from Monthis. He is done for—politically, anyway.

—We are informed reliably that Mr. D. Martin, whose name was mentioned in connection with the theft of a valide at Elliott's boardinghouse a week or so ago, is entirely innocent of any complicity whatever in the matter. We cheerfully make the correction, and are sorry that the correction, and are sorry that the correction, and are sorry that the correction should be necessary.

There is nothing handsomer, save a pretry woman, than a beautiful letter or bill head, and every merchant should take a pride in gotting the neatest work of the kind to be found. No job office in the South or West can turn out handsomer work than the old established Franklin Job Office of Mr. S. C. Toof, No. 15½ West Court street. He keeps a large stock of milorial, and employs none but the very best of workmen, while every job is guaranteed to please.

—Flames were discovered in the second story of the building occupied by A. Canalles, No. 286 Front row, about half-past nine o'clock has in ingit. was promptly given, and the engines were soon on the spot. At writing, the fire is quite subtened, but it is impossible to form any estimate of the damage done by fire and water. Mr. Camilles values his stock at $7000, but probably not the half of its injured.

—Tim O'Donnell, drivur of hack No. 40, after driving a man samed Munt all around town, asked him for his fare, and in response was told by Hunt that he hal no money. Hunt, however, volunteered to leave an overcoat with him as collationate and complained that Tim bad assaulted him and taken his contained away. Tim was acrested on a warrant, but when the case came up for a hearing before Squire Foley yesterday, Hunt did not appear against him. Witnesses say that the charge was purely malicious and false.
